

INSURANCE COVERAGE LITIGATION

The attorneys at Freeman Freeman & Smiley have extensive experience in counseling clients on insurance coverage issues as well as litigating insurance disputes.

We are frequently called upon to provide analysis of complex and cutting edge insurance coverage issues involving insureds and risks throughout the United States and around the world. We are also frequently consulted to provide recommendations on a wide range of insurance coverage issues.

Our approach is to work with clients to resolve problems with an aim to avoiding litigation. When this is not possible, our attorneys are experienced in litigating complex insurance disputes, including allegations of bad faith, and successfully defending ensuing appeals. Our expertise includes litigating in state and federal courts throughout the United States, international arbitration, and all forms of alternative dispute resolution.
